

Need any help with your right of way direct mail campaign? Celeritas can help!

Let us show you why hundreds of companies have chosen Celeritas' Pipeline Awareness Program to assist them in communicating with stakeholders along their pipelines. Our program starts with a quality and current database of stakeholder addresses. We then use the most powerful GIS public awareness tool around to screen and filter out unnecessary addresses from your list, saving you money. From there we execute your mailing using one of our top notch and focus group tested direct mail pieces or we can use a mail piece of your choice. Surveys can be conducted via business reply cards or by including an internet address for web-based surveys. And all your program documentation can be saved and referenced using the Public Awareness Manager™—hands down the best system in the pipeline awareness marketplace!
